EVENT REPORT:

A “Master Class” was organized on the topic “Climate and Environmental Challenges” on 14th June, 2023. The guest speaker for the session was Mr. Dharmesh Thakkar, Editor, The Free Press Journal, who enlightened the students about the issues related to environment and climate change. He also guided the students about how they should hone their reporting skills and how an add-on course along with their regular studies can be an additional advantage when they go out in the industry. He spoke on the topics such as sustainable development, wildlife conservation, different types of pollution and how we can protect the environment so that the future generation also gets to breathe clean air.

EVENT REPORT:

Shivani Saran who is an independent film maker and producer, interacted with students speaking about being a film maker and a business person. She hit upon one important point and that was how reading a newspaper or book, shapes the human intellect and makes them think of stories too. Her view on students making the most of their time travelling to new cultures and cities shapes their perspective and helps in honing their skills, making them better at film making. Shivani gave a very important perspective on not to be judgmental about who they work with and in case of a conflict, should take it up personally rather than creating an unhealthy work atmosphere.

EVENT REPORT:

Mr Sengupta started the session with his experience journey of Television. The challenges and scope that the Television Industry offers in the changing landscape of the audience shifting to OTT Platform. Television according to him still has a lot of scope. The medium can be very taxing at times as there are always deadlines to meet. The makers have to think on their feet and try and create scenarios within minimum budget. This can be very challenging. OTT, on the other hand offers a lot of scope in terms of creative freedom. The writing, techniques and treatment is very different from Television and Films. In terms of Comparison and for easier understanding, he referred to Television as Print, films as Books and OTT as an encyclopedia.

EVENT REPORT:

With the technological advancements and ever evolving environment of the digital world, it is vital to understand the employment of the digital media. A master class was conducted by Mr. Aashish Agarwal, Head of Digital Marketing, Times of India Group, to help students understand digital marketing from students' as well as marketing perspective. Mr. Agarwal, gave an explicit explanation of the necessity of transformation and the importance of taking risks at the initial stage of the career. He directed students by stating "Marketing is also about selling your skills internally in an organization". He guided the students about the main domains of marketing, branches of digital marketing, skills that are required in the world of digital marketing and 5 steps to become a successful digital marketer.

EVENT REPORT:

Milind Jog, a seasonal cinematographer, has shot films like Muramba, Lukka Chippi, Pondicherry amongst many others. He also has shot many documentaries and ad films. He shared his vast experiences of the film industry during the master class. He talked about the importance of cinematography in the filmmaking process. He also highlighted the evolution of craft due to change in technology. He talked about his experience and challenges of shooting the film 'Pondicherry' on the mobile phone and how shooting on mobile is a different process than shooting on professional cinematic cameras. He also talked about the aesthetics and approach towards cinematography in the context of story. He also made a specific point about the importance of collaborative effort in the entire process of filmmaking. He encouraged students to shoot films or content on their mobile phones as it's very economical and accessible. The session was definitely an informative one for aspiring filmmakers.

EVENT REPORT:

A masterclass was organized on the topic “Understanding the difference between Fashion Styling and Fashion designing. Ms. Rima Melwani, is a well-known Costume Designer, Celebrity Fashion Stylist and an Academician. She busted several myths related to fashion styling and designing. She also talked about the bright future prospects for students in the fashion industry. Along with this, she encouraged the students to add some or the other skill in their resume. She also talked about taking even the smallest job assigned to them with utmost sincerity. The session was received well by the learners and they satisfied their curiosity by asking numerous questions in the Q&A round after the session.

EVENT REPORT:

On 30th September 2023, IQAC and Film Club of DGMC had organized a Tête à tête session with makers of Amazon Original Series Breathe at Madhoprasad Seminar Hall. Mr. Mayank Sharma, director of “Breathe” and Mr. Vikram Tuli, writer of “Breathe” were invited to the college to have an interactive session with the students of DGMC.

Mr. Vikram Tuli initiated the session by telling the story of how the idea for the Series Breathe came to their mind. Mr. Mayank Sharma added on how they connected with Amazon. They told the students how initially the series was written as a feature film but Amazon wanted them to make an Original Web Series. Breathe was one of the first Indian Amazon Original Webseries. They explained the process which went into the making of the series, the struggle they faced as they didn't have any clue on how to make a Webseries for an OTT platform. It was a very fun discussion as students participated by asking questions regarding the series.
