IQAC & Cine Verse Club

"Film Screening"

The IQAC & the Cine Verse Club of RSET's Deviprasad Goenka Management College of Media Studies is organising "Film Screenings" of two films "12 Angry Men" on 9th Sept 2026 and Ek Ruka Hua Faisla" on 11th Sept 2026 from 10am onwards in classroom 782.

About the Movie

Film adaptation has long been one of cinema's most powerful bridges between cultures, taking a story rooted in one nation's identity and reshaping it for another without losing its emotional or moral core. 12 Angry Men (1957), directed by Sidney Lumet, is one of the most influential courtroom dramas ever made, twelve jurors locked in a room, deliberating a teenager's fate, as one dissenting voice (Henry Fonda) challenges the group's rush to judgment. Nearly thirty years later, Ek Ruka Hua Faisla (1986), directed by Basu Chatterjee, brought the same story to India, translating its themes of bias, groupthink, and reasonable doubt into a distinctly Indian social fabric, same room, same tension, same moral urgency, but told through Indian character types, class dynamics, and dialogue. Together, the two films stand as a cult example of adaptation done right, honouring the original while bringing rich cultural nuance to a universal story.
